CULTIVATION CUBE

Where you grow is just as important as how you grow. The Cultivation Cube™ is a self-contained system that meets regulatory guidelines and is scalable to fit the unique needs of today's commercial cultivator. The Cultivation Cube™ is an ideal solution for commercial-scale growing within limited space. Its advantages over other grow systems include:

-  Efficient speed-to-market with fast delivery and easy setup
-  Increased security with limited-access units
-  Risk mitigation of plant lost through precision environmental controls
-  Lean Manufacturing applicable with a limited space footprint

Each unit is fully outfitted with all the necessary equipment and technology, making the Cultivation Cube™ a turn-key solution for all limited space agricultural and horticultural applications. The standard Cube is designed for use indoors however can be outfitted for outdoor use.
